Freedom Jazz Stimulus Jazz Sessions Designed to Beat the Recession

Art, Jazz and Debbie Duncan at the Capri Theater

Continuing with the success of our summer outdoor jazz concert in August and 2009 theme "Jazz for a Brave New World", we bring you art and jazz to warm you up on a cool autumn day.

The Freedom Jazz Stimulus is an informative, entertaining and cultural display of the vast talent and hidden treasures in the Twin Cities that is returning to our community.

Young musicians interested in the jazz workshop led by well known musicians can register for the class and will perform in the concert. The art exhibit consists of resident artists Richard Amos, Adonis Saverson, Suzy McNamara, and jazz historian Tony Garrett showcasing their creativity and a world class jazz history. Also you can view video of the 2009 Freedom Jazz Festival if you missed the show in August. The concert features the divine Ms. Debbie Duncan who will keep you warm with her mix of blues, jazz and gospel. Appetizers and beverages will be available during the art exhibit.
